

Session 8 B

Title: Business Office Crime Scene – Ethics is the Smoking Gun

Description: Ethics is not just knowing policy and following policy. No matter your title or position in the business department, accounting department or human resources department, ethics is your real job; yet, the most neglected topic in continuing education conferences. How we treat others. Not losing sight of the purpose of an audit. Complacency: Complacency is the conspiracy of "the crime" while unethical behavior is the commission. Why is it that employees appear to walk on water on their resume and during the interview and onboarding process, but have some of the most head scratching behavior once they have settled in and the honeymoon period is over? This will not be your garden-variety Ethics class; rather, a challenging inside jolt to motivate you to be a better professional and a better person.
